Forward

2-1-1 Texas is a program of the Health and Human Services Commission in collaboration with the Permian Basin Workforce Development Board (PBWDB). PBWDB is a regional organization serving the same 17 counties and similar clientele as that of 2-1-1 Texas Permian Basin, making this a suitable partnership for continuous support and growth of both programs to serve the citizens of the Permian Basin. In May 2009, our Area Information Center successfully attained the AIRS Accreditation. The accreditation process assesses the ability of an I&R program to demonstrates full compliance with AIRS Standards for Professional Information and Referral.

How TO USE THIS DIRECTORY

Agency Listing: All agencies are listed alphabetically and by county. Each agency complies with the Inclusion and Exclusion criterion.

Service Index: This is a keyword listing of agencies by service provision. Agencies are listed alphabetically within the category and page numbers are noted. Some agencies will be listed in multiple categories depending on services they provide. In addition agencies, providing services in more than one county will be identified by (*).

Disclaimer

2-1-1 Texas Permian Basin is pleased to offer the Permian Basin Community Directory 2012 edition free of charge as a community resource. Every effort has been made to supply complete and accurate information based on information supplied by the agencies listed. Inclusion in the directory does not imply endorsement nor does exclusion imply disapproval of any organization. Each agency must comply with 2-1-1 Texas Permian Basin inclusion and exclusion criteria and must fill out database forms to be included in the directory and database. Please report changes or additions to 2-1-1 Texas Permian Basin. For more up-to-date information, please visit www.211texas.org or dial 2-1-1 Option1.

The 2-1-1 Texas Permian Basin’s Inclusion and Exclusion Criteria is based on the Alliance of Information and Referral Systems (AIRS) Standards for Professional Information and Referral. Accordingly agencies who meet the following inclusion/exclusion criteria are eligible for inclusion in the 2-1-1 Texas Permian Basin’s database. The information maintained by the Area Information Center (AIC) includes any governmental, non-profit or critical for-profit agency that provides a health or human service required to address the needs of all groups in the Permian Basin.

2-1-1 Texas Permian Basin recognizes that the size and make-up of each community in the 17 county areas will influence the depth and complexity of its database. The following types of agencies and information will be included in our database:

- All state-funded health and human services, and government agencies
- Nonprofit health and human service agencies
- Community service organizations that offer a social service to the community at large; such as churches and social clubs that do not require membership in the organization (NOTE: must have been in operation for a minimum of six months)
- Critical for-profits that provide a service that is not addressed by a non-profit organization and/or offer free services or a sliding scale fee or that are Medicare, Medicaid, or CHIP approved
- Hospitals, health clinics, licensed home health agencies, nursing homes that are Medicaid or Medicare approved, and other medical agencies that are Medicaid or Medicare approved and/or offer free services or a sliding scale fee
- Advocacy groups, civic groups, self help and mutual support groups
- Health and human service professional organizations
- Licensed and registered day care centers
- Federal, State, County, and Municipal government offices

2-1-1 Texas Permian Basin reserves the right to exclude certain organizations from its database. Potential grounds for exclusion or removal from the database may include, but not limited to, service non-delivery, fraud, misrepresentation, discrimination, criminal activities, serious complaints lodged against them with any regulatory body, and/or private companies that do not provide either free or sliding scale fee services.

If an agency/service provider does not meet the guidelines of the inclusion/exclusion criteria, 2-1-1 Texas Permian Basin will notify that agency of this decision by letter or email.

In the event that an agency/service provider wants to file a complaint or appeal that agency may do so in writing within 30 days of receiving the letter notifying the agency that they do not meet the inclusion/exclusion criteria.

The complaint will be presented first to the 2-1-1 Project Director and/or to the 2-1-1 Advisory Board. After the application is reviewed based on the inclusion/exclusion criteria the decision is considered final. The agency will be notified in writing as the outcome of the complaint or appeal within 30 days of this review.

CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) trains volunteers from all walks of life, ages and ethnic groups to act as court appointed advocates for abused and neglected children. The volunteer watches out for the child's best interest. CASA volunteers serve as the court's eyes and ears to help the judge decide whether a child should stay with parents, or be placed with relatives or be free for permanent adoption. CASA volunteers are there when a child needs someone most. In a system over burdened by increasing case loads, they make perhaps the greatest difference in the life of a child affected by abuse or neglect.

Continuum of Care Program
Odessa Links is responding to the inability to provide continuum of care services to homeless individuals which has been identified as a prevailing problem in producing favorable outcomes for the homeless population. Odessa Links provides service agencies with the HMIS components to offer comprehensive case management to all their clients including homeless individuals. HUD has specifically recognized HMIS for its ability to directly improve the effectiveness of community homeless shelters and service delivery systems. With the incorporation of HMIS, the Odessa community has a stronger application when seeking federal assistance for the homeless population. Through comprehensive case management provided by our Homeless Coordinator we are able to provide access to available resources to homeless individuals and families to establish self sufficiency.

Comprehensive Energy Assistance Program
The Comprehensive Energy Assistance Program (CEAP) helps families pay their electric or gas bills. Families must be income eligible to receive assistance. CEAP consists of four components: Energy Crisis, COPAY, Elderly, and Heating/Cooling.

ENERGY CRISIS - to help with electric, gas or propane if there has been weather related crisis (such as extremely hot or cold temperatures for several days). Also, purchase portable heating/cooling appliances with doctor's statement.

COPAY - to help with electric, gas or propane bills for 6 to 12 months. The program pays for either the gas or electric bill (whichever is higher) then it will pay a percentage of the new bill each month and client has to be able to come to the office for weekly appointments and attend budget management, energy conservation training and other activities needed to help them gain self-sufficiency.

ELDERLY to help with 1 current bill, either gas, electric or propane and an additional 3 months during peak summer or winter months. A twelve month billing history will be used to determine peak months. Actual amount on bill will be paid on those months. Must be at least 60 years old or disabled. If disabled, must provide written proof of disability. To receive this assistance, client must show he or she has used all available income.

HEATING/COOLING - to help with air conditioner/heater repairs or replacements. To be assisted with this component, client must have an existing air conditioner or heater.

Oral History Program
Office Hours: Tues- Sat 9:00am - 5:00pm

The American Airpower Heritage Museum of the Commemorative Air Force houses a significant collection of over 4,200 oral histories from World War II Veterans of aviation and the collection is growing daily. Wouldn't you like to have your story be a part of this historical collection? We have an oral history kit which contains complete instructions about how you can record the World War II experiences of you or your fellow veterans. These recordings are then sent to the museum to be placed on file in our archives for future generations to use for research and historical purposes. The American Airpower Heritage Museum is committed to preserving the memory of the men and women who built, serviced, and flew the historic military aircraft from World War II. With your help, we can preserve the World War II experience as told those who lived it.

Foster Care
On-Campus Therapeutic Foster Care program provides a natural home environment for a maximum of eight children. Foster parents provide nurturing, structure, and a teaching curriculum to help the children manage and overcome the emotional scars of child abuse, and teach them valuable life skills. The family-style environment allows the youth to participate in normal family activities, such as meal preparation, family outings, homework, chores and games. The children are also involved in individual and group counseling, independent living programs, motivational workshops, devotional programs and vocational programs. Education is a high priority at High Sky. All children attend public school, have mandatory study hours and have tutors available to them.

In the On-Campus Foster Care Program, children ages 0-8 reside in one of our campus youth homes with a foster care couple. The couple provides a natural home setting where children are taught family living, as well as, independent living skills and participate in normal family activities. Children in the On-Campus Foster Care Program also receive a variety of services including therapy, academic services and recreational activities.

The Community Foster Care Program is designed for children ages 0-18 who have lower level of care needs or are in need of a community home setting. High Sky recruits and trains community area couples who are willing to open their homes to children in need. High Sky’s staff works closely with the foster families to provide on-going training, development and continuous support.

PAL/LIFE
PAL is designed to teach young adults ages 16-18 the skills necessary to make it on their own. Some of those skills include getting a job, money management, renting an apartment - understanding a lease, applying for college, seeking financial aid for college and preparing a meal. These are just a few of the skills required for young adults to become independent.

Midland LIFE/Abilene LIFE — PAL Aftercare is designed to work with those same youth during the ages of 18-21. These youth need advice and direction in solving problems and planning out the steps to achieve their goals in life. Many times people forget that someone taught them how to change their oil, get registered for college and carry out the daily tasks of living in an adult world. The LIFE program helps young adults get their first apartment including getting the utilities turned on, acquiring the necessary supplies and groceries and possibly some furniture to help them get started with their new life outside of foster care.

Originally founded in 1995, our goal is to provide supportive care and to relieve pain for people who no longer benefit from curative treatment. The typical hospice patient has a limited life expectancy, so we strive to help them live as fully and normally as possible. Family members play a key role in maintaining this sense of normality- they too are taught how to provide care and cope with illness and its effects. No patients or family member will ever be billed for services provided. Home Hospice believes that people are best served if they retain freedom and dignity at life’s end, and it is our honor and

The Savings for Independence Programs helps individuals and families achieve long-term financial goals of home ownership and business ownership. The program will achieve its goal by providing personal finance classes; assisting participants to establish a habit of saving; and matching the participant's savings. The participants earn the matching funds by: 1. establishing a habit of saving at least $10 a month in an IDA account; 2. completing the financial literacy training program, Money Smart; and 3. attending assets specific training. When the participants save monthly and attend training, the program will match their saving with $3 for every dollar they save, up to $1,000 of their savings. There is no fee associated with this program. The savings accounts and all of the training are free of charge.

The mission of Midland County Sheriff's Office Crisis Intervention Unit is to provide assistance to law enforcement at the scene of a crisis, while lending comfort and support to the victims enabling them to regain some control of the situation. The Crisis Intervention Unit was founded in 1989 to assist law enforcement and to assist victims of crime.

Volunteer Program
A team of two volunteers responds to the scene, the emergency room, or wherever the officer requests. This team assesses the situation and establishes the needs of the victim, lending emotional support and crisis counseling. If the longer-term help of another agency is necessary, the agencies are contacted for the victim and/or the victim is transported to the agency. Volunteers make calls for the victim, provide information about Crime Victim's Compensation, explain crime scene protocol, protect victim from media harassment, provide referrals for long term help arrange child care, and contact friends and family for them. CIU does anything necessary to aid the victim in regaining some control back in their lives. Volunteers do not leave the victim until their support is in place.

Office Hours: Mon- Fri  8:30am - 5:30pm Court

Midland Teen Court is an alternative system of justice for youth ages 10 - 18 who receive a citation for the violation of a Class C misdemeanor, including traffic offenses. After appearing before a Municipal Court Judge or Justice of the Peace, entering a plea of no contest or guilty and requesting teen court, the youth enrolls in teen court. The youth appears before the jury of fellow teens and accepts the constructive sentence: hours of community service, evening of service as teen juror, and possibly appropriate educational classes. Upon receipt of the certification of completion from Teen Court, the citation is dismissed, not only saving the cost of the fine but also keep that offense from the student’s record. Volunteers in grades 7th and up, serve as teen jury members along with youth serving as part of their case. Other experienced volunteer teens may train to serve as teen attorneys, representing the state as prosecutors or the young defendant. Midland Teen Court also offers educational seminars once a month, monthly except for August and December.

Established to provide support to people affected by HIV/AIDS, as well as their families and to provide education and timely information on the prevention of HIV/AIDS. Midland Area Aids Support, Inc. (MAAS) was established after Judy Warren, Executive Director of MAAS, lost her brother to AIDS in 1990. She had been his caregiver for the last two years of his life and knows first hand the grief and feeling of isolation people with AIDS and their family members feel. After her brother's death, Judy began to give support to other people affected by this disease. The response and the need for this type of support was almost overwhelming to her. MAAS is an organization that is founded and grounded in Christ. It is the goal of MAAS to show all people dealing with this disease God's unconditional love, forgiveness and grace. As people with AIDS are preparing to die, we are often in the honored position of guiding them spiritually to God. Services include outreach and prevention through support and education for those people living with HIV/AIDS, families and friends, adults and young people and the community at large.
