

Brittany Hernandez is a Texas Rising Star Mentor with a strong background in early childhood education. Since joining the program in 2023, she has been dedicated to supporting quality care and education. She holds an AAS in Child Development, a paraprofessional credential at the elementary level, and a BA in Child and Family Studies and Social Work from the University of Texas Permian Basin. Brittany has worked in childcare since 2016 and, after gaining experience in both high school and legal settings, returned to her passion for early childhood education.
